

Kinshasa, DR Congo, December 2 (Infosplusgabon) - Generals and senior officers of the DR Congolese armed forces (FARCD) and the Congolese national police (PNC) Tuesday reaffirmed their loyalty and allegiance to President Felix Antoine Tshisekedi Tshilombo, the communication service of the presidential press said here.

“Grateful to the Congolese population which it is the emanation, the armed forces and national police reassure your Supreme Authority that no seduction campaign of any kind will sap our citizen commitment and our determination to remain apolitical, national and republican,” they said in a message of ‘resolute loyalty’.

For about four hours of exchange, President Tshisekedi spoke to a hundred generals and senior officers, including 70 of FARDC and 64 of the National police reminding them of the oath they took to serve the nation.

That encounter comes five months after that held on 11 July, this year, at the nation’s palace.
